Dear Parents/Carers

GCSE English Language and Literature Revision

Further to my letter in February detailing some of the resources available for revision, the English Department have created a day-by-day menu of suggested tasks that will help your child revise for their GCSE English Language and Literature exams. These tasks cover all aspects of the qualification and are colour coded to help students plan their time well; each colour denotes a separate element of the course. The resource sheet will be given out to students in class and is also available on Google Classrooms. Embedded within the sheet are external links that may also be of use.

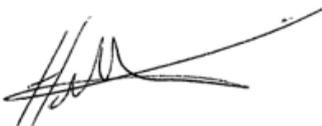

There is no expectation that your child completes all of the tasks. The resource is more to guide and help your child revise. It is not compulsory. They can pick and mix from the selection. The aim of this resource is to offer a place to start for some students, or a comprehensive programme of revision exercises for others. Below, you will find a guide to the type of revision tasks included in the resource sheet.

Task Types:

- Essay planning with focused questions
- Educake and self-quizzing tasks
- Extract selection and annotation
- Quotation revision
- Timed practice
- Films and online resources
- Flashcard creation and revision
- Short burst writing challenges
- Short burst reading tasks

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any queries or would like any further information on hmn@cardinalheenan.com. We hope this resource helps your child plan for success.

Kind regards
